

UNDEFEATED ELEVEN MEETS WORTHY FOEMEN

Many Hard Games On Saturday Menu

Ole Miss Goes Up Against Mississippi Aggies, Vandy Meets Alabama, Tennessee Tackles South Carolina, Georgia Tech Battles Washington and Lee.

BY BOB PIQUE.

ANY IMPORTANT GAMES are on Dixie's football schedule for Saturday. Practically every eleven in the South is expected to be in the line of play, and with a few more hard games to be played, there is plenty of opportunity for some of the best football to be seen in the South.

There remain only four undefeated eleven in Dixie—Georgia Tech, Mississippi A. and M., the University of Alabama and Washington and Lee. This quartet is staging a "desperado" battle for the premier gridiron honors of the South, and it is expected that the outcome will be a close one.

TECH VS. W. AND L.

Two undefeated eleven will meet in Atlanta Saturday when Georgia Tech goes up against Washington and Lee. Tech should have a comparatively easy time getting the decision over the Lynchburg eleven, and should come away with at least a 20-point margin, unless some big upset occurs. Washington and Lee is hardly in Tech's class, and less all signs fail, the Golden Tornado will ring up another victory and eliminate another foe in the fight for the Southern championship.

Coach John Heisman, of Tech, has his machine working in old-time form, and is counting on supplying the road roller to the Virginia. Tech will enter the game with practically the entire team of regulars in the lineup and will go right out and try to sweep up the contest as early as possible.

The Washington and Lee outfit is not expected to be in the line of play, but will fight the Yellow Jackets to the last ditch. The game will be played in Atlanta at Ponce de Leon park.

MISS AGGIES VS. OLE MISS

One of the most important games of the season will be played at Clarksdale, Miss., Saturday afternoon when Ole Miss will go up against the Mississippi Aggies. This is a game of great importance, and both teams are expected to be in the line of play.

The Mississippi Aggies have yet to lose a game, and are expected to be in the line of play. The Ole Miss outfit, which is coached by R. L. Sullivan, is in wonderful shape, and is expected to be in the line of play.

SHADE AT ALABAMA TO BE IN LINEUP NEXT SATURDAY

Commodore Quarter and Memphis Lad Injured, But Recovered Sufficiently to Return to Game.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 7.—The Commodore continues their practice for the Alabama game and have been favored with good weather for the first three days in which time great progress has been made by the Commodore outfit and the men are making every effort to shake the dope which has it already figured out that the Alabama will leave the Gold and Black combination at the little end of the horn.

Having on its roster some six or seven gridiron stars, some surprise is felt here at the poor showing which the Commodore team has made this year for at the beginning of the season.

Other men, like Ty Cobb, set a pace for season after season that stamps them as great players. And this ability to lead year after year, gives them the privilege of talking new terms.

But Babe Ruth isn't one of these. He isn't simply the bright light of the Red Sox team, the American league or the majors for the season of 1919, or the past several seasons. Instead, he is just that, and nothing more. Babe, in one season, has become the most terrific hitter that baseball ever has known.

Ground rules, official scorers and other branches of the game, didn't aid him in gaining this name. He has made the puny hits that had to be judged.

He passed up the stinging grounders that could not be handled except by the game, and who, by their season's record, are the best players in the game.

OLE MISS NOW IN CLARKSDALE

Ready to Go Up Against Aggies in One of Biggest Clashes of Year.

UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI, Nov. 7.—The Ole Miss players arrive here today for Clarksdale, where they will meet the A. and M. warriors in the annual gridiron contest on next Saturday. Although the team averages only 154 pounds and is the lightest that has represented the Red and Blue in many years, the game Saturday is expected to be a very interesting affair and hard fought from the beginning to the end.

The A. and M. will be very much surprised Saturday when the Ole Miss players get into action, for the Red and Blue aggregation is full of pep and will be full of fight from the word "go." Coach Sullivan has been working the squad extra hard this week and expects them to make a better showing than they have made in many years.

All the players are in the pink of condition and with the Ole Miss backfield all in the game the score is not expected to be very large.

The lineup as announced by Coach Sullivan follows:

Officials for the game will be Halligan (Massachusetts Aggies), referee; Graves (Missouri), umpire; Curdin (Vanderbilt), head line judge.

A special train probably will be run from here to take care of the large number of students that will attend the game.

High Playing C. B. C.; M. U. S. Meets Normal

BY COYLE SHEA.

Central high and C. B. C. are playing Friday in a football game that may add much light to the present befuddled situation in the city. Saturday M. U. S. meets Normal and when these two games are finished the race for the local championship will have narrowed down to a small field.

C. B. C. is already neck high in the mud, gasping for air, but any unexpected and unheralded upset on her part, with High absorbing the beating, would go a long way toward shaking the puzzle into an unsolvable state.

At the same time no one is looking for the collegians to waltz the High machine—not even the Purple and Gold lads themselves.

The main thing is that the lads have been well schooled in the fundamental principles of the game—tackling, blocking and charging. Add to this the spirit which is theirs and you have the answer to the present cheerful mood.

Whatever final touches are to be applied to the boat will be by word of mouth when the men sit in for their last instruction Saturday morning before the game.
